Dear Conference Participants,

On behalf of the Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies, I am delighted to welcome you to our campus and classrooms!

The Azrieli Institute opened its doors four years ago and we have accomplished much to be proud of. We regularly provide research support for our graduate students and faculty members who are engaged in the academic study of Israel; we have created the first and only Israel Studies undergraduate program (Minor) in Canada; and we have welcomed post-doctoral and visiting faculty fellows to continue their work using our facilities. Indeed, we hope to see many of you come back to visit us in the future in some capacity!

The academic program of this year's Annual Meeting provides a forum for the major intellectual debates that continue to define and advance the field of Israel Studies. In addition to the regular working sessions, the program also features a number of special events devoted to the multi-disciplinary exploration of the theme of sustainability as well as the presentation of several contemporary Israeli documentary and feature films.

I invite you to peruse the program book and identify the scholars, the topics and ideas that you would like to engage during the Annual Meeting.

I would like to thank the members of the AIS 2015 Program Committee as well as the senior executive of the Association, Dr. Menachem Hofnung (President), Dr. Ilan Troen (Vice-President), Dr. Amnon Cavari (Executive Officer), and Dr. Ilan Ben-Ami (Treasurer), for their dedication and support as we have built the conference program.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Conference Participants and Guests,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you all – long-term AIS members and those who are attending for the first time – to our Annual Meeting of the Association for Israel Studies at the Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies in Concordia University, Montreal, Canada.

Since its creation in 1984, the AIS has grown considerably and is now consisting of hundreds of scholars in five continents and dozens of countries. This meeting is made possible only through the support, volunteer work and good spirit of our members. We are looking forward to engaging and scholarly enriching meeting aimed to broaden research and understanding of various aspects tied to Israeli history, social life, politics, culture and arts.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our devoted members who have worked tirelessly to make this conference possible. Many special thanks to Professor Csaba Nikolenyi, the Academic Director of the Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies and the 2015 AIS Program Chair. I like to express further thanks to Jennifer Solomon for her careful and efficient administrative coordination. The Program Committee members and Csaba Nikolenyi as its Chair had to review hundreds of panels and paper proposals and did a masterful job. They deserve our deepest gratitude.

It is also my pleasure to thank the AIS officers, the Vice President, Professor Ilan Troen, the Treasurer, Dr. Ilan Ben Ami, and Dr. Amnon Cavari, the Executive officer. All three were very essential in bringing this meeting into fruition.

I hope that you will enjoy the meeting and that your interaction with your colleagues from many different countries will stimulate a creative exchange of ideas and will be personally rewarding.

I look forward to meeting you during our time in Montreal.

Prof. Menachem Hofnung
President, Association for Israel Studies (AIS)
Department of Political Science
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Whether a first time or a returning visit, welcome to Concordia University and our beautiful city of Montreal!

We're very happy to host the 31st Annual Meeting of the Association for Israel Studies (AIS), and excited to welcome scholars and researchers from around the world.

This year, AIS will convene on the topic of Sustainable Israel. Advances in sustainability, as they relate to Israel, have significance for communities everywhere.

The University is well-situated to host this meeting, given our rising international prominence in both Israel Studies and sustainability – with ample overlap between the two.

Concordia's Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies is creating a dynamic understanding of Israel through different lenses. The first of its kind in Canada, the Institute draws on an array of fields, such as science, commerce and environmental studies.

The structure of cross-cultural, multi-disciplinary scholarship also holds true when it comes to sustainability at Concordia.

Concordia was recently selected as the executive secretariat of Future Earth, a globe-spanning United Nations project. The initiative marks a big step toward getting climate experts on the same page. And it's only the beginning.

At Concordia, you'll find centres devoted to resource and energy conservation, zero-impact infrastructure and sustainable business development. We have projects that include an urban farm, a greenhouse and a sustainability fund.

This program book will provide more depth into the exciting projects taking place at Concordia's Azrieli Institute – and campus wide – and how they play into this 31st Annual Meeting of AIS.

Welcoming you again to Concordia.
Great to have you here!

Concordia University

Welcome to Concordia University and the 31st Annual Conference of the Association for Israel Studies.

This year's theme Sustainable Israel: A Changing Society in the 21st Century fits particularly well with our research mandate.

At Concordia, our research is driven by sustainability, identity, technology, health, and other issues that affect our lives. We believe that it is at the intersection of these research disciplines that we can drive the innovative solutions for a more sustainable future.

As a truly multi-disciplinary research centre, the Azrieli Institute of Israel Studies is an amazing example of our research mission in action. The centre brings together academics from wide ranging fields such as archaeology, history and religion with economics, art and literature in order to contribute new ideas and voices to Israel Studies. It is also an important source of support for the next generation of scholars through funding for graduate students and postdoctoral fellows who are dedicated to the study of Israel in all its facets.

Thank you for joining us for this important event. I hope that your time in Montreal and Concordia is fruitful both professionally and personally.

Sincerely,

Welcome to Concordia University!

As Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science, I am delighted to welcome the 31st Annual Meeting of the Association for Israel Studies.

Our Faculty is dedicated to fostering a strong commitment to interdisciplinarity and Israel Studies plays a key role in promoting this vision. Our faculty members cultivate dynamic collaborations with Israeli partners in a wide variety of disciplines such as Political Science, Religion, and Sociology, among others. With the Azrieli Institute's compelling efforts to provide quality graduate student training and support, we are contributing in a major way to research and scholarship in Israel Studies.

The theme of the conference Sustainable Israel is also close to our heart. In the Faculty of Arts and Science at Concordia University, we are leading the way in sustainability teaching and scholarship with many interdisciplinary initiatives. We are looking forward to hearing from the participants of the conference about the cutting edge approaches to a sustainable Israel.

The Faculty of Arts and Science is a federation of 27 units and over 18,000 students working together to produce innovative research, provide quality teaching and service, and ensure excellence in carrying out our academic mission. This is an opportunity for us to learn and engage in a stimulating discussion.

MOVIES

Room H-763

Body Language

(Written and directed by Doïna Harap in collaboration with Iolande Cadrin Rossignol)

Produced by Doïna Harap, a Montreal documentary maker, this film deals with the subject of visually "reading" the body language of the terrorist. It is the first documentary to date which incorporates neuroscientists, autism specialists and psychoanalytic thinking concerning the developmental problem that terrorists bond through violence and are not developing empathy early in their lives. The documentary specifically portrays airport security at Ben-Gurion International Airport. The detection of terrorists attempting to penetrate airport security is crucial for tourism sustainability.

This film will be screened on Tuesday, June 2 at 9:15 am and will be followed by a discussion with Ms. Harap and Dr. Nancy Hartevelt Kobrin, Psychoanalyst, Arabist and Counter Terrorist Expert as well as Fellow at The American Center for Democracy.

Children of the Sun

(Directed by Ran Tal)

Born into the utopian dream of the early kibbutz movement, the "children of the sun" were destined to fulfill the hope for a new way of life.

This film will be screened on Sunday, May 31 at 11:00 am and on Tuesday, June 2 at 3:30 pm.

Iraq N' Roll

(Written and Directed by Gili Gaon)

In an attempt to bridge time, space and culture, Israeli rock musician Dudu Tassa takes on the original music of his grandfather who was one of the leading musicians in the early 20th century in Iraq. A grandson and the weight of history – a story about the power of music and its ability to heal a family's pain.

This film will be screened on Sunday, May 31 at 1:00 pm.

Sustainable Israel: A View from the Sky with DUBY TAL

The presentation features new cinematic and photographic work by DUBY TAL, Israel's celebrated aerial photographer, about the Israeli environment, the new energy project and plans for the rehabilitation of the south of the Jordan river. The presentation is followed by a discussion with Mr. TAL.

This event will take place on Monday, June 1 at 11:00 am.

The Human Turbine

(Written & Directed by Danny Verete)

The attempts to harness wind and solar energy for the benefit of the residents of the Palestinian village of Susia. Working through action, rather than through protest, a group of determined individuals demonstrates how they are figuratively and literally lighting up lives.

This film will be screened on Sunday, May 31 at 2:30 pm and on Monday, June 1 at 2:00 pm.

Shattered Rhymes: the Life and Poetry of Erez Bitton

(Written & Directed by Sami Shalom Chetrit)

The film is a cinematic portrait of Jewish-Moroccan Israeli-based renowned poet Erez Bitton, and of his acclaimed poetry. A successor of the legacies of North-African poetizing and a pioneering predecessor of Mizrahi poetry in Israel, Bitton travels through the important landmarks of his, his family's, and his generation's, lived histories, shares from his experiences as a blind person, and reads from his musical, critical, multifaceted poetry.

This film will be screened on Monday, June 1 at 9:30 am and at 3:45 pm. Following the second viewing of the film, a discussion will take place with Sami Shalom Chetrit, Dr. Amor and Dr. Freiwald.

Zero Motivation

(Directed by Talya Lavie)

STRIKE ACTION AND NATION BUILDING

Labor Unrest in Palestine/Israel, 1899–1951

David De Vries

"This is simply one of the best books I have read on the history of Israel/Palestine in several years. It is easily among the top three or four best and most important of its type—but I would hasten to add that it is quite distinct... Given the current climate of opinion, with overwhelmingly negative attitudes toward 'strikes' as instruments of labour relations, it is crucial that the phenomenon be situated and analysed in a historical context." MASS COMMUNICATION IN ISRAEL

Nationalism, Globalization, and Segmentation

Oren Soffer

Translated from the Hebrew by Judith Yalon

This book examines the relationship between media and nationalism in Israel, arguing that, in comparison to other countries, the Israeli case is unique. It explores the roots and evolution of newspapers, journalism, radio, television, and the debut of the Internet on both the cultural and the institutional levels, and examines milestones in the socio-political development of Hebrew and Israeli mass communication.

The Political Psychology of Israeli Prime Ministers

When Hard-Liners Opt for Peace

Yael S. Aronoff, Michigan State University

"Making her case through political biographies of six recent Israeli leaders, Yael S. Aronoff argues that leaders matter when it comes to peace. Aronoff details that features of Israeli leaders' ideology and their propensity for risk taking predispose them for, or against, major changes in the status quo. She evaluates the extent to which their image of the enemy is subject to change and other psychological dimensions relevant to rethinking foreign policies toward the Palestinians and Arab states. Nicely structured and written in accessible prose, the book draws on an impressive familiarity with psychological theory and Israeli politics."

—Richard Ned Lebow, King's College London

This book examines leaders of the seemingly intractable conflict between Israel and its Palestinian neighbors. It takes as an intellectual target of opportunity six Israeli prime ministers, asking why some of them have persisted in some hard-line positions but others have opted to become peacemakers. This book argues that some leaders do change, and above all it explains why and how such changes come about. This book goes beyond arguing simply that 'leaders matter' by analyzing how their particular belief systems and personalities can ultimately make a difference to their country's foreign policy, especially toward a long-standing enemy. Although no hard-liner can stand completely still in the face of important changes, only those with ideologies that have specific components that act as obstacles to change and who have an orientation toward the past may need to be replaced for dramatic policy changes to take place.

JERUSALEM: One City, Three Faiths

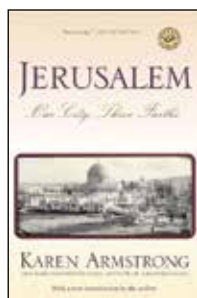

by Karen Armstrong

The author of A History of God traces how Jews, Christians, and Muslims have all laid claim to Jerusalem as their holy place, and how three radically different concepts of holiness have shaped and scarred the city.

"Splendid... Eminently sane and patient... Essential reading for Jews, Christians, and Muslims alike."

THE INVENTION OF THE LAND OF ISRAEL From Holy Land to Homeland

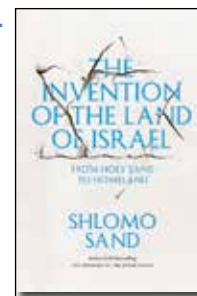

by Shlomo Sand

Translated by Jeremy Forman

Following the acclaimed and controversial The Invention of the Jewish People, Shlomo Sand deconstructs the age-old legends surrounding the Holy Land and the prejudices that continue to suffocate it.

"[Sand] critically considers the ways in which the Zionist colonization of Palestine and the establishment of the State of Israel have been justified by claims of ancestral lands, historical rights, and millennia-old national yearnings, all of which he proceeds to critically undermine as either justifiable reasons for mastery over the land of Palestine/Israel or even representative of longstanding mass Jewish aspirations." —BOOK NEWS

THE MUCH TOO PROMISED LAND

America's Elusive Search for Arab-Israeli Peace

by Aaron David Miller

Aaron David Miller's insider's account of the Arab-Israeli peace process offers a brilliant new analysis of the problem and how it still might be solved.

"[Aaron David Miller] has written the rarest kind of diplomatic history—both knowing and accessible. This is a book peopled by large, historic figures... and Aaron Miller renders them with artistry. He was there as this diplomatic history was made, and he distills it for his readers with honesty and wisdom and no small measure of irreverence. A superb and exquisitely rendered book."

MY PROMISED LAND

The Triumph and Tragedy of Israel

by Ari Shavit

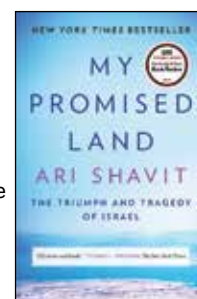

Winner of the Natan Book Award, the National Jewish Book Award, and the Anisfield-Wolf Book Award

An authoritative and deeply personal narrative history of the State of Israel, by one of the most influential journalists writing about the Middle East today.

"[An] important and powerful book... [Shavit] has an undoctrinaire mind. He comes not to praise or to blame, though along the way he does both, with erudition and with eloquence; he comes instead to observe and to reflect. This is the least tendentious book about Israel I have ever read. It is a Zionist book unblinkered by Zionism. It is about the entirety of the Israeli experience. Shavit is immersed in all of the history of his country. While some of it offends him, none of it is alien to him"

"Black Earth is provocative, challenging, and an important addition to our understanding of the Holocaust. As he did in Bloodlands, Timothy Snyder makes us rethink those things we were sure we already knew." —Deborah Lipstadt

BLACK EARTH: The Holocaust as History and Warning
by Timothy Snyder

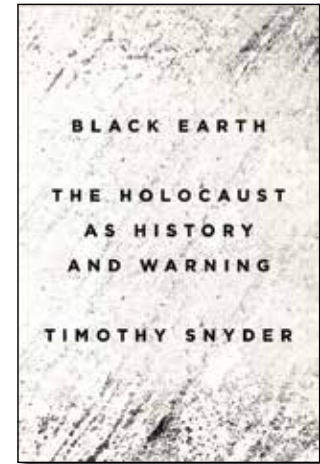

In this epic history of extermination and survival, Timothy Snyder presents a new explanation of the great atrocity of the twentieth century. Groundbreaking and authoritative, Black Earth is the result of painstaking research from one of our most acclaimed historians. With new sources from Eastern Europe and forgotten testimonies from Jewish survivors, Black Earth reveals a Holocaust that is not only history but warning.

"Timothy Snyder is now our most distinguished historian of evil. Black Earth casts new light on old darkness. It demonstrates once and for all that the destruction of the Jews was premised on the destruction of states and the institutions of politics. I know of no other historical work on the Holocaust that is so deeply alarmed by its repercussions for the human future. This is a haunted and haunting book—erudite, provocative, and unforgettable." —Leon Wieseltier

"Part history, part political theory, Black Earth is a learned and challenging reinterpretation." —Henry Kissinger

TIMOTHY SNYDER is the Housum Professor of History at Yale University and a member of the Committee on Conscience of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. He is the author of Bloodlands: Europe Between Hitler and Stalin, which received the literature award of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, the Hannah Arendt Prize, and the Leipzig Book Prize for European Understanding. Snyder is a frequent contributor to The New York Review of Books and the Times Literary Supplement and a former contributing editor at The New Republic. He is a permanent fellow of the Institute for Human Sciences, serves as the faculty advisor for the Fortunoff Archive for Holocaust Testimonies, and sits on the advisory council of the Yivo Institute for Jewish Research. He lives in New Haven, Connecticut.

Celebrating Our 60th Anniversary!

In the 60 years since its founding, Bar-Ilan University has grown in size and in breadth, while the vision that sparked its establishment remains steadfast. BIU continues to see its mission as something far more challenging and historic than merely being another great university. Today, more than ever, BIU builds character and leadership for Israel and the Jewish nation, based on the belief in the centrality of Israel to the Jewish world as its national homeland and the recognition that our traditional Jewish values are the very core of our being. Bar-Ilan University takes pride in upholding the very raison d'être of its creation six decades ago and looks forward to a bright and productive future.

Israel Studies

International MA Program

Israel embodies an unusual blend of contradictions. It is an ancient country, and yet, a very young state and society. It is modern, progressive, a leader in high-tech, and at the same time traditional and conservative, cherishing ancient customs and rituals. Israel's political arena, social relations, and cultural scene are extremely dynamic, and historical events are at the center of public discourse.

Are you curious to learn more about this intriguing country?

Join us at the International MA Program in Israel Studies! Ben-Gurion University's Institute for the Study of Israel and Zionism offers an International MA program in Israel Studies (ISIP) that goes beyond traditional disciplinary contours and explores Israel's history, society, cultures, beliefs, and political structures.

A degree in Israel Studies will be of value for candidates seeking to enter the public and non-profit sectors in administrative, diplomatic, civil, or teaching positions related to Israel, the Middle East, and the Jewish world.
